Safe and Effective Body Sculpting

To expand and contract muscles and reshape the deep structure of muscle tissue, HI-EMT (High-Intensity Electromagnetic Wave) technology is used. It promotes muscle growth and the formation of new protein chains, resulting in increased muscle production, density, and volume. The treatments can assist in significant fat breakdown and the separation of fatty acids for triglyceride release.

GOLDARC

Imagine a device that can be used on almost every problem area of the face and body, without any wounds, burns, or scars!

Even around the eyes, including the eyelids, can be treated.

Plasma energy devices reach directly into the layers beneath the upper dermis, causing minimal, pinpoint vaporization-induced white damage. These tiny white damages quickly turn into slight redness minutes later. The procedure is highly comfortable and effective, promoting skin renewal in both the upper and lower layers during the healing process.
